Suggested Holders for Small Oxygen Tanks

This inexpensive, home-made holder for small oxygen tanks is made from a small piece of solid board securely attached to the wall. Several 4" PVC pipe couplings are screwed to the board and to each other. The cylinders can be inserted and removed without any additional steps to secure them.

A similar holder can be fashioned for the larger tanks, only instead of lifting them in and out, a more secure strap or chain can be affixed to the support board along the wall.
